Benefits of AP

Students take rigorous AP® courses in high school, in part, for the chance to earn college credit and placement through a score of 3 or higher on the exam.

New evidence now shows there are benefits to taking AP courses even for students who don't meet that threshold.

AP students who earn a score of 1 or 2 or average a score of 1 or 2 across their AP Exams in high school have better college outcomes than academically similar college students who did not take an AP course and exam.

Equity in AP Enrollment

How do we equitably encourage more students to enroll in AP courses?

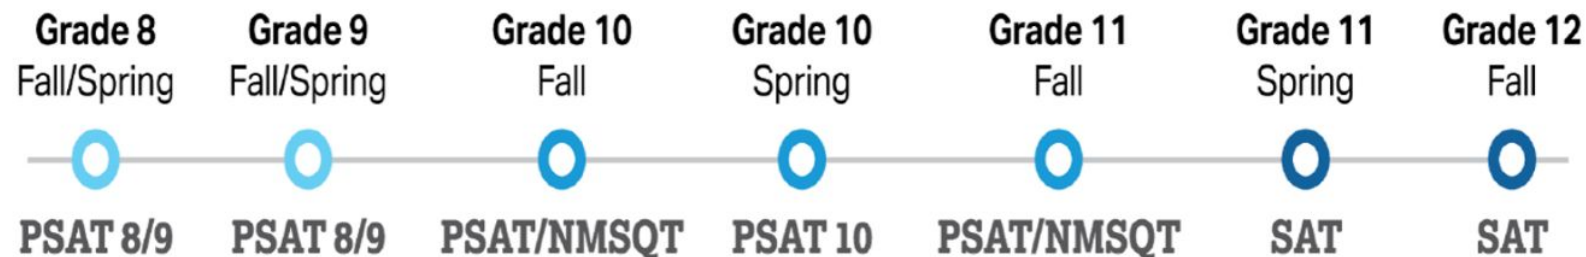

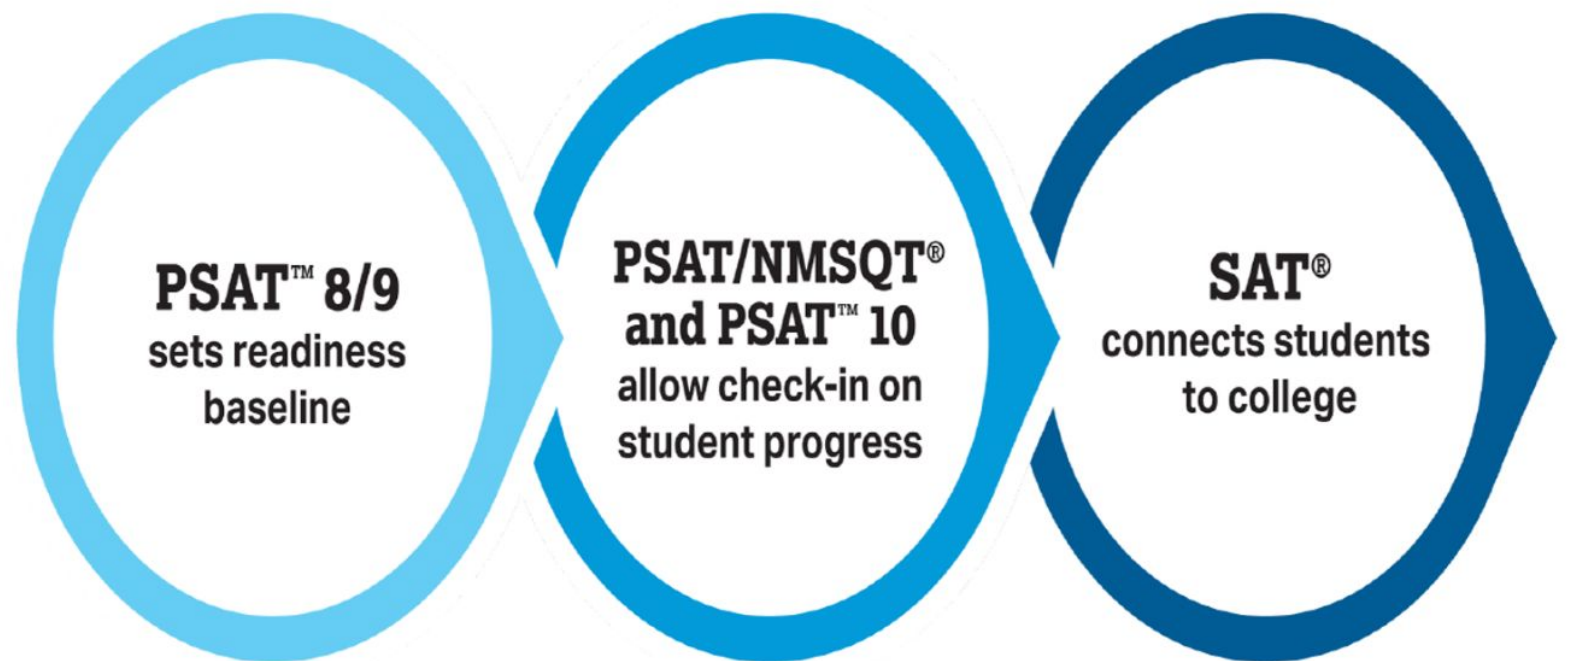

College Board data show that hundreds of thousands of high school students nationwide have the potential to succeed in AP but do not take any matched AP courses. Bridging this gap is crucial to supporting student access to college and career readiness.

AP Potential is a free, Web-based tool that helps you increase access to AP[®] by using the SAT[®] Suite of Assessments score data to identify students with the potential to succeed in AP.

Access your AP Potential

The screenshot shows the K-12 Reporting Portal interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Reports', 'Downloads', and 'Help' links. Below this is a dark header with 'Run Reports' and 'Sample School 1'. A search bar is on the right. The main content area has a 'Back to Summary' button and a message: '595 Test Taker(s) This School's AP Potential Access Code: Not Available'. The title is 'SAT (Aug 2016 - Jul 2017) Detailed Roster'. There are filters for 'Roster Report Filters' and a button for 'AP Potential Tool' (highlighted with a red box). Below this are tabs for 'Registration Report / Admission Tickets' and 'Score Reports / Labels Printing'. A search bar for 'Student Name / Student' is present. A table lists students with columns: Student Name, Student ID, Date of Birth, Grade, Assessment, Administration, Registration Date, and Registration ID. Two students are listed: Adams, Mark B. and Adams, Carol T. A 'Live Chat' button is at the bottom right.
